

PRESENTED BY:

&

OWL

PANEL DISCUSSION: WOMEN IN THE PUBLIC SECTOR

A discussion with local women working in the public sector

CHERYL SCOTT

Executive Director
Kern Economic Development
Foundation
Vice President
Kern Economic Development Corporation

- 25-plus years of communications, marketing and public/government affairs experience
- Writes business and lifestyle articles for local and national platforms including Huffington Post, Thrive Global, and her own blog FlutteringBy.Me.
- Active in a variety of local efforts including CSUB's Global Outreach Committee and the Bakersfield College Foundation

LORELEI OVIATT

Director
Kern County Planning and Natural Resources Department

- Expedited projects permitting over 12,000 MW of renewable energy in Kern County for wind, solar, and alternative fuels.
- Led a team on a 2.8 million acre project level EIR and Zoning amendment to streamline oil and gas permitting for Kern County and State Agencies
- Lecturer on public policy topics at California State University, Bakersfield

LETICIA PEREZ

President
California State Association of Counties
Kern County Supervisor
5th District

- Governor Brown's appointed member to the Board of State and Community Corrections
- Received numerous awards for her partnership with local businesses, job developers, and community leaders while spearheading some of the country's most innovative economic development and renewable energy development projects.
- Her political career has been reported on by the Los Angeles Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, The New York Times, and she has been featured on the the Daily Show with John Stewart.

LUNCH PROVIDED

RSVP TO:
KVADLEZ5@CSUB.EDU

November 21st
11:30AM - 1:30PM
Stockdale Room