Section 14: Academic Probation & Academic Disqualification for Graduate Students

The CSUB policy on Academic Probation and Disqualification for graduate students, per the 2016-2018 catalog, can be found at the Division of Graduate Programs. The relevant section begins on page 199.

For convenience, the policy and our MPA draft letters on Academic Probation or Disqualification for graduate students reads as follows:

May 24, 2017

Dear:

As a [Conditional] Master of Public Administration student, Department of Public Policy and Administration, your cumulative grade point average is now below the 3.0 requirement. The university’s announced policy on Academic Probation and Academic Disqualification for graduate students reads as follows:

Academic Probation for Graduate Students -- In general, a graduate student shall be subject to academic probation at the end of any academic term where the student’s grade point average for all course work that is in the Plan of Study falls below a “B” (3.0) average. However, students admitted to a graduate program may be subject to academic probation when their performance is judged to be unsatisfactory with respect to the scholastic and/or professional standards established by the individual graduate program. This judgment of performance will be based upon a review by the graduate program coordinator and the Associate Dean for Graduate Studies. All graduate students are encouraged to consult with their respective graduate program coordinators regarding acceptable scholastic and/or professional standards established by the graduate program.

Academic Disqualification for Graduate Students -- A graduate student shall be subject to academic disqualification if, while on academic probation, the student fails to earn sufficient grade points necessary to be removed from scholastic probation status and attain a 3.00 GPA. Pursuant to university policy, this is notification that I shall recommend to the Associate Dean for Graduate Studies, that you be placed on [ Academic Probation (or) Dismissed from the MPA] effective immediately. You are hereby advised to devote this semester to improving your cumulative GPA to a minimum of 3.0 though successful completion of courses in which you are currently enrolled or by successful completion of any outstanding Incomplete grade(s).
